Southern Baptist Convention To Meet in Oklahoma City

Ten thousand Baptists from 21 states will converge on Oklahoma City, Okla., May 18-22, for the annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention ... expected to be the largest religious gathering in North America in 1949.

The 26,822 churches cooperating with the Convention have a total membership of 6,491,891. The number includes 312,246 new converts baptized into the churches in 1948.

Day sessions of the Convention will be held in Oklahoma City's 13,500-seat municipal auditorium and all night and Sunday sessions will be held in Taft Stadium, seating 30,000 people. A youth revival service led by Texas college students Saturday night and an evangelistic service Sunday night are expected to climax the sessions.

The Southern Baptist Convention is one of the most uniquely organized groups in the world. The Convention is constituted of "messengers" rather than "delegates" from the churches, in that no one carries authority to bind his congregation back home to the decisions of the Convention. The denominal program is purely one of cooperation, and Convention ... expected to be the largest religious gathering in North America in 1949.

With accordance with New Testament beliefs, and the churches left free to cooperate or not cooperate as they choose.

That the churches do choose to cooperate is evidenced by the fact that their gifts to the Convention's worldwide program totalled $8,865,000 in 1947. Colleges, seminaries, hospitals, benevolent institutions and mission work in a score of countries bear testimony to their united work.

The Rev. J. Marshall Walker, the pastor of Liberty Baptist Church at Appomattox, plans to attend the Convention.

During the first three months of 1949, churches contributed a total of $3,345,589.73 to the Southern Baptist Convention's national and world-wide program of missions, education, and benevolence.

A 1949 census which will appear in the 1949 Southern Baptist Handbook shows that church membership in the United States has reached 50,246,124, which is 55 per cent of the population. The 48 largest evangelical groups in the nation report 46,665,747 members. Roman Catholics report 26,075,697 members. Total membership gain for 1948 was 3,1 per cent, compared with 2.3 per cent in 1947.

Farm Water System Advised

WATER SYSTEM AID FOR FARM PRODUCTION

Higher profit with less labor is possible on the farm where water under pressure is readily available, says E. T. Swink, associate agricultural engineer at V. P. I.

Listing some of the advantages of an electric water system, Swink referred to a survey conducted by the Virginia Farm Electrification Council. The study, made on 108 Virginia farms, showed that the families spent an average of 77 ten hous days per year pumping and carrying water before water systems were installed. On these same farms today, electric outfits are doing the job at a cost of less than $1.00 per month for electricity.

"There are dozens of uses for running water in the home and on the farm that will save labor, provide conveniences, and increase the income," he said, "in the home, running water makes possible a kitchen sink, a modern home laundry, and a bathroom. He pointed out that the average farm family without a kitchen sink spends about 240 hours per year carrying 20 to 30 tons of water for kitchen use only.

He also reports that water under pressure has many productive uses on the farm - uses that mean greater profits. Cows must have plenty of water for high production. The installation of automatic drinking cups in dairy barns has resulted in 10 to 15 per cent more milk from cows. Hens lay more and larger eggs when water is plentiful. Automatic drinking fountains in laying houses assure a constant supply of water with a minimum of labor. Hogs and beef cattle put on more weight when water is always available to them. Systems also supply enough water to irrigate the farm garden. Even during seasons of normal rainfall, farmers have reported increased yields up to 50 per cent by irrigating their gardens.

An automatic electric pump is an aid in fire protection. It is valuable, however, only when a fire is discovered in the early stages.

FERTILIZER FOR LAWNS

A combination of fertilizer and 2, 4-D is being recommended this season for use on Virginia lawns, says A. G. Smith, Jr., landscape specialist at V. P. I.

A weedy grass, the specialist explains, is a starved grass. So plant food is of first importance. He recommends applications of about 400 pounds per acre of 10-6-4 fertilizer to which about four pounds of the sodium salt form of 2,4-D has been added. Ready-mixed preparations available on the market are more satisfactory than home-mixed.

Best time to apply the fertilizer-weed killer is when the ground is dry and both grass and weeds are growing actively. Get the material on uniformly. Even distribution is one of the main factors in effectiveness.

A note about clover—the weed killer in the mix will suppress clover temporarily, but will not kill it.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How Would You Say It?

Curley Lawson's cousin from back East and a few of us got talking when he was here visiting, and I couldn't help noticing how different he said things.

For instance, he said, "Lifting that 200-pound bag of cement almost killed me." "You mean sack of cement?" asks Curley. (That's the way we'd say it.) "No," interrupts young Elliott who'd spent a lot of time down South, "He means a 'poke of see-ment.'"

It was good for a chuckle, anyway. Bag, sack or poke—we knew what he was trying to say. It just depends on where you are in the U. S., which way sounds right.

From where I sit, whenever we criticize someone for sounding funny to us, we ought to think how we sound to them. It's the same as choosing your liquid refreshment. I'm accustomed to a moderate glass of beer—you may like ginger ale—but who's to say the other's wrong? I'd say we're both right!
